

Foundation for the Global Compact

Job Opening | Manager Digital Learning

Posting Title: Senior Manager, Digital Learning

Location: New York, NY

POSITION SUMMARY

The UN Global Compact Academy aims to provide corporate professionals around the world the knowledge and skills needed to accelerate and mainstream sustainable business practices at scale. To support these efforts, the UN Global Compact is seeking a dynamic learning and development manager.

The digital learning expert will be responsible for leading the digital development of the Academy platform and the production of learning journeys, programmes and products that provide powerful learning outcomes for a global corporate audience across key corporate sustainability topics, including the Ten Principles of the UN Global Compact and the Sustainable Development Goals. The Senior Manager will support the strategic development of capacity of the overall Academy initiative and efforts to maximize uptake and impact of programmatic contents and delivery.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- Manage the continuous development of the UN Global Compact Academy Learning Management System aligned with the new digital transformation ambition and strategy for the UN Global Compact
- Advise on leading-edge trends, innovative formats, and impactful learning materials for effective digital learning programmes with trackable results that maximize user experience and engagement across on-demand, live sessions, and blended programmes.
- Partner with internal and external subject matter experts and key stakeholders to assess training needs, recommend educational content, formats, and methodologies for impact-focused learning programmes designed for business leaders around the world.
- Manage Academy production plans, and timely and functional delivery of Academy content and programmes
- Support the strategic development and growth of the UN Global Compact Academy as a key part of the UN Global Compact value proposition and global capacity building effort for scalable impact.
- Ensure robust evaluation mechanisms are in place to measure and monitor programme satisfaction and impact.
- Develop and deliver 'train the trainers' to advance best practices for online facilitation skills and effective knowledge transfer across the organization.

CORE VALUES:

Please, no phone calls or unsolicited e-mails outside of the submission process

- Integrity: Demonstrates the values of the United Nations in daily activities and behaviors; acts without consideration of personal gain; resists undue political pressure in decision-making; does not abuse power or authority; stands by decisions that are in the Organization's interest, even if they are unpopular; and takes prompt action in cases of unprofessional or unethical behavior.
- Professionalism: Shows pride in work and in achievements; demonstrates professional competence and mastery of subject matter; is conscientious and efficient in meeting commitments, observing deadlines and achieving results; is motivated by professional rather than personal concerns; shows persistence when faced with difficult problems or challenges; and remains calm in stressful situations.
- Respect for Diversity: Works effectively with people from all backgrounds; treats all people with dignity and respect; treats men and women equally; shows respect for and understanding of diverse points of view and demonstrates this understanding in daily work and decision-making, examines own biases and behaviors to avoid stereotypical responses, and does not discriminate against any individual or group.

EDUCATIONAL AND EXPERIENCE REQUIREMENTS

- A first-level university degree in business administration, management, education, or a related field
- Minimum of six years of relevant experience from learning and development, capacity building projects/programme portfolio management, and/or business transformation processes. Deep understanding of adult learning and best practice design for a global, corporate audience.
